

RYDER SCOTT — 2013 — RESERVES CONFERENCE

Ninth Annual Ryder Scott Reserves Conference “Evaluation Challenges in a Changing World”

Wednesday, September 18-Hyatt Regency Hotel-Houston, Texas

“Frontlines Bulletin: Friends, Foes and Fracking” Tisha Conoly Schuller, Colorado Oil & Gas Association

Summary: Tisha Schuller, President & CEO of the Colorado Oil and Gas Association, will discuss public engagement, regulatory, and legislative developments in Colorado that have implications nationally for oil and gas development. COGA's unique approach to broadly engaging industry employees and a wide range of stakeholders has provided a new tactic to address the increased presence of national activist groups and the local regulatory conflicts that result. In this talk, you will not only learn more about the challenges the oil and gas industry faces, but you will be challenged to get involved. You may leave as an engaged ambassador for the oil and gas industry's economic, environmental, and energy contributions.

Evaluation Challenges in a Changing World